3 Minute Thesis

Competition at James Cook University

► What is "3 Minute Thesis"?

- The 3 Minute Thesis (3MT) is a research communication competition that showcases academic and research skills.
- Participants have three minutes to present a compelling presentation on their research and its significance. The competition format challenges participants to consolidate their ideas and research discoveries so they can effectively explain their research in language appropriate to a lay audience.
- At James Cook University, we are pleased to encourage the research efforts of students, alumni, and academic staff (full-time and sessional) and welcome their participation. This year, we are pleased to extend eligibility to our external academic partners, Republic Polytechnic and the University of Reading Malaysia.
