Research Participation Program

However, research participants often find the learning experience of participating in research studies rewarding, and all JCU Singapore students are welcome to participate provided they meet the specific eligibility criteria for individual studies (research credit will not apply for anyone outside the PSRPP).

JCU uses the SONA research management system to connect researchers with participants and to manage the recording of research credit points for eligible researchers.

FAQs

Are the studies safe to participate in?

- Yes, the studies are safe to participate in as they have been reviewed by human research ethics committee (HREC).

- However, if discomfort is experienced, please notify the researchers immediately so that they can advise you on the appropriate support channels.

Can I participate and obtain credits after the research participation deadline?

- No. Credits obtained after the research participation deadline will not be counted.

Can I participate after obtaining the maximum amount of eligible credits?

- Yes! Researchers will be grateful

- However, if you are taking PY1101/PY1102 in the following trimester, do ensure that there are adequate studies available for you to attain the required credits as there is strictly no carry over of credits once the maximum credit is reached for the current study period/ subject

Can I share credits among modules (e.g., 20 credits for both PY1101 and PY1102)?

- No. Credits cannot be shared between the subjects.

- Strictly 20 credits for each subject.

Can I bring over or use credits from the previous trimester?

- No. Credits cannot be brought over from the previous trimester

- Credits attained will be reset to 0 when the new trimester begins.

Thank you!
